Design Guidelines and Standards

As a reminder, all changes to the appearance of your home to include painting, landscaping, structures, lighting, etc. require approval by the Design Review Committee. This is not a new requirement. Please refer to the "Design Guidelines and Standards for Cundall Farms Metro District." These standards apply to every home in the Trailside Community. You can find the Guidelines at <https://www.cundallfarmsmetro.org/>.

Then select the "Metropolitan District" tab and then click on the drop-down titled "Architectural Design Guidelines."

Community News

- Metro District The regular Metro District board meeting convened 13 May to discuss the following:
- Checks totaling $74,604 for the period 14 Mar through 28 Apr were issued for management fees, the annual audit, landscaping charges and social event support.
- The annual audit report was reviewed along with the budget status and the principal and interest owed on the outstanding bonds.
- A list of residents who are in arrears for monthly payments and other charges was reviewed. Collection letters were sent to those who owe more than $500.
- A number of issues with the contractors employed by the city to restore the landscaping destroyed by the pipeline project were discussed. Significant damages to the sprinkler system were noted as well as the failed plantings.
- Much of the lighting along the walking path has again failed. Efforts to resolve the problem are underway yet again.

Blue Envelope Program

The Blue Envelope Program is a community-focused initiative designed to promote calm and informed communication during traffic stops, emergency responses, and other interactions with first responders. Participants use a clearly marked blue envelope to store essential documents—such as a driver's license and registration—alongside guidance for both the individual and first responders. The envelope acts as a signal indicating that additional time, understanding, or accommodations may be needed.

This program is offered in partnership with Thornton Police, Fire and Adams County Sheriff's Office and is a community-focused initiative designed to improve interactions between first responders and drivers with autism, developmental disabilities, or communication challenges during interactions with first responders.

On each envelope, information is provided for both the driver and the first responder, encouraging respectful and patient interaction. The program underscores the City of Thornton's ongoing commitment to safe, supported and livable communities

- Participation: Voluntary program, self-enroll, no information stored
- Important Reminders: The Program does not exempt participants from legal obligations. Safety First. Officers may still use necessary safety actions.

Envelope Distribution: Residents can pick up a Blue Envelope from the locations listed below:

- Thornton Police Department headquarters, 9551 Civic Center Drive
- Fossil Ridge Public Safety Center, 13150 Quebec Street
- Fire Administration, 2300 Thornton Parkway
- Community Center, 2211 Eppinger Boulevard
